

For Your Prayers This Month:

"Let everything that has breath praise the Lord" Psalm 150: 6

Lord of all hope, be with those who carry the responsibility of positions of power and influence. May they serve in all goodness and may peace talks continue, according to your will.

We continue to pray for safety, peace and sanctuary for the people of Palestine, Israel, Ukraine and Russia, and for those affected by the devastation of the monsoon in Pakistan. Please give safety for those bringing aid to areas of suffering.

We pray for paramedic Kate who will be supporting Olena and Nazor as they make their way to Mandy and Pete.

Help us to extend the shalom of your kingdom into broken places.

We remember our farmers, trying to provide food during this season of drought.

We pray for those finding it difficult to make ends meet in the current economic climate, and we give thanks for the food pantry and those who support it.

As the new school term begins, please be with teachers, staff and children transitioning to new schools and classes, and those starting school for the first time.

For local families with children who are going through intense medical treatments, we pray for miraculous healing, extra strength and give thanks for the medical professionals.

We pray for those caring for their families now in ways that need extra fortitude. Loving Father God, would you wrap your arms of love around those recently bereaved, the sick, and those facing end of life.

We pray for Helen and welcome her as she starts her role as curate in the parish.
